City of Covington Enters Cleanest City Contest

The City of Covington has entered the 54th annual Louisiana Garden Club Federation's Cleanest City Contest. The Cleanest City Contest is designed to encourage communities to work together with the common goal of cleaning their environment while instilling pride in their city. The City entered the contest in conjunction with the Covington Garden Club and Keep Covington Beautiful. Covington placed second last year in the Cleanest City Contest, which is divided into 10 categories according to population.

The judging is usually held in early spring, around late March or early April. The City will continue to keep citizens updated on contest information and ways to prepare.

"Mayor Mike Cooper would like to encourage our Covington community to join efforts in preparation of the contest and watch Covington shine," says Pam Keller, Executive Assistant to Mayor Mike Cooper/Special Projects Director.

Citizens can contribute to the effort by organizing neighborhood cleanup groups to "Keep Covington Beautiful".

Farmer's Market Recipes

Fresh recipes inspired by ingredients found at the Covington Farmer's Market, by Chef Sorelli

Orange-glazed Roast with Brussel Sprouts

Collect:

1 whole roast pork
(Justin Pitts)

2 baskets of Brussel Sprouts
(Taylor's Happy Oaks Farm)

1 bag of Oranges
(Ken Savastano)

5 chopped cloves of garlic

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Heat a skillet with oil. Salt and pepper the roast and begin to sear it on all sides. Once the roast is seared, remove it and put it in a baking dish. Squeeze oranges into dish and add the remainder of the orange along with one cup water.

Cook until internal temperature is 145 to 155 degrees, depending on your taste. Next squeeze about 6 oranges and set aside. Clean brussels by cutting the bottoms and cutting in half. Add salt and pepper to your taste at this time. Heat a clean flat skillet, add oil and cook the brussels flat side down and cook until golden brown. Add the garlic to the brussel sprouts and toast the garlic, then add orange juice and let simmer until reduced about half-way.

Columbia Street Landing: The Birthplace of the City

From its founding, Covington was an important trade center, linking the river to the lake and New Orleans. The river was dredged to allow schooners and steamers to travel between New Orleans, Madisonville, Mandeville and Lewisberg, up the river to the Columbia Street Landing. Carts pulled by oxen would line Columbia street from the landing to the graveyard, dropping off goods like cotton, and picking up supplies to bring back to northern landlocked towns and plantations. The boats would also bring visitors from New Orleans, anxious to experience the mineral springs and Ozone air. In the 1850's, Covington was considered the second healthiest place to live in the country due to the lack of incidence of common diseases, and many families settled to escape yellow fever and malaria outbreaks.

Today there are no ferries coming down the Bogue Falaya, but the Landing still has much to offer. "Sunset at the Landing," is a free concert series held monthly from March through October on the beautifully landscaped property. Due to the efforts of former Covington City Councilwoman Pat Clanton, the Landing is once again the perfect spot for a picnic, or the start of a stroll down Columbia Street.

The Well-Groomed Pet

Grooming is an important part of your pet's health. Regular baths will keep your pet smelling fresh, and will give you time to inspect your pet's coat and fur. If your pet is medium or long-haired, regular brushing is essential. Small debris and dirt can cause hair to tangle and mat. De-tangling and de-matting brushes are available at any pet supply store. Serious matting may require the attention of a groomer.

The St. Tammany Humane Society recently opened a do-it-yourself dog wash at their facility, and the Scrubby Puppy is located near Claiborne Hill. Most veterinarians offer bathing services, and your veterinarian will be happy to talk to you about a grooming schedule appropriate for your pet.
