Last Weekend "The Trip to Bountiful" Playmakers Enters 59th Season With Hit

Playmakers Community Theater opens their 59th season with "The Trip to Bountiful". Stepping outside their mainstay of musicals and comedy, first time director Derek Thrush does a wonderful job with this dramatic rendition of Horton Foote's classic, pulling out emotional depths from some of our favorite local talent. Elizabeth Pfeffer Williams shines in the lead role of Mrs. Watts, an aging widow remorseful of her past mistakes and unfulfilled in her current situation. She lives with her overbearing daughter-in-law played by Deborah Marcelle (Almost, Maine) and caring, but detached son Ludie played by Cary Martin (Moon Over Buffalo & Lend Me A Tenor), far away from her beloved Bountiful, symbolic of a simpler time in life. With an innovative set that creates a seamless flow, you won't want to miss a beat as this play builds to its climax - will Mrs. Watts make it to Bountiful, and what will happen when she gets there?

Dine at The English Tea Room Friday Night and receive a discount on your Playmakers ticket price! The Tea Room will be open an extra hour (until 7 pm) on Friday to pamper you with the ultimate dinner & a show experience (bring your own wine). Make sure to grab your receipt for your entree to receive $5 off your ticket price for "The Trip to Bountiful". For ticket information call (985)-893-1671 or visit www.playmakersinc.com.

Covington Farmer's Market Recipe

Inspired By Ingredients Found At The Market
Puree of Grilled Okra, Prosciutto and Sweet Corn -
By Chef Leslie, Del Porto Ristorante
(makes ½ gallon of soup)

- 2 lb. Fresh okra
- 4 Ears of corn, shucked
- 1 Onion, small dice
- 1 10oz can of whole peeled tomato (no juice)
- 1 Tbsp. garlic, minced
- 3 Tbsp. basil & oregano, rough chop
- 2 Quarts dark chicken stock
- 1 Cup of diced Prosciutto (or any type of ham)

Season corn and okra with oil, salt and pepper and grill until lightly marked on all sides. Set aside to let cool. In a medium soup pot, add oil and sear onions over medium heat until translucent, add garlic. Hand crush tomatoes into the pot, and cook for about 5 minutes. Add chicken stock and bring up to a simmer. Rough chop okra, and add to the pot, let simmer for about 30 minutes. Puree soup in a Vitamix or blender. Once pureed, pass the mixture through a strainer or sieve fine enough to remove seeds and any hard parts of the okra. Remove corn off the cob. In a clean soup pot add 1 tbsp. olive oil. Over medium heat sauté corn and diced prosciutto or ham for five minutes. Add chopped basil and oregano, strained and pureed soup, and simmer for twenty more minutes. Season with salt and pepper at the end. Garnish with sliced Creole tomatoes, toasted croutons, whole parsley leaves, shaved parmesan cheese and extra virgin olive oil before serving. Enjoy!
