The Antiquarian Image - Opening at STAA An Exhibition of 19th Century Photographic Processes

An international exhibition of works by ten photographers on display at the STAA Art House from February 21 through April 4, 2015.

Although digital imagery is now the standard in the 21st century, the photographic image has its roots deep in the early 19th century and reaches as far back as the Renaissance era with the camera obscura. Throughout the 19th century more advanced printing techniques and processes were developed-ambrotype, tintype, photo-gravure and albumen. A few artists have remained dedicated to creating images using such techniques from the dawn of the photographic process, and this exhibition will showcase ten from around the world and right here in our backyard: Alex Sapienza of Dublin, Ireland; Dennis Ziliotto, Monselice, Italy; and Borut Peterlin, Dolenjske Toplice, Slovenia; Michelle Smith-Lewis, Seattle, WA; Euphus Ruth, Greenville, MS; Scott Anton, Solon, ME; Jeanne Wells, Turner, ME; David Armentor, New Orleans, LA; Robert Dutruch, Bush, LA; and Bruce Schultz, Lafayette, LA.

During the opening reception, 6-9 pm on Saturday, February 21, visitors will be able to watch demonstrations of the tintype process and purchase a portrait of their own as David Armentor will be on site offering portraits throughout the evening. A portion of the sales will support educational programming at the St. Tammany Art Association. Advance reservations for portraits are recommended, call 985-892-8650 for details.

In coordination with the exhibition STAA has scheduled hands-on workshops illustrating the tintype and lumen printing processes. Space is limited. See articles below for more details.

The exhibition, sponsored in part by Lost Hills Studio, will be on display at the St. Tammany Art Association located at 320 N. Columbia St. in downtown Covington.

STAA Upcoming Art Workshops & Markets Lumen Print Workshop Saturday March 21st

This class with instructor Natasha Sanchez will introduce students to the lumen print process, a camera-less technique that dates back to the origins of photography in the 19th century. The class will cover the printing process, composition, paper, fixing, toning, and scanning options. Participants will take home three completed lumen prints. Saturday March 21st at the St. Tammany Art Association, 320 N Columbia St. 11 am – 3 pm. Cost is $95, includes supplies. Call (985) 892-8650 for more information.

Tintype Workshop Saturday March 28th

In this workshop, David Armentor of St. Veronica's Photographic Gallery will walk participants through basic techniques of the tintype process. This includes preparing the plate, pouring collodion, exposing, developing, fixing and varnishing as well as chemical mixing and safety. You will leave with a completed tintype. Participants are encouraged but not required to bring their own large format cameras. Saturday March 28th at the St. Tammany Art Association, 320 N Columbia St. 1 – 5 pm. Cost is $195, includes supplies. Call (985) 892-8650 for info.

Farmer's Market Recipe: Roasted Winter Root Vegetables

Fresh recipes inspired by local ingredients found at the Covington Farmer's Market

Ingredients:

1/2 lb turnips, chopped
1/4 lb parsnip, chopped
1/4 lb carrots, chopped
1/4 lb red potatoes, chopped
1/4 lb lb mushrooms, chopped
1/2 large onion, chopped
1/4 cup chopped chives/ grn onion
3 tbsp minced garlic
3 tbsp extra virgin oil
1 tbsp apple cider vinegar
1 tsp course sea salt
1 tsp each of lemon thyme, tarragon, sage, fresh parsley
1/2 tsp each ground yellow mustard powder & paprika

Cooking Instructions:

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. In a large oven proof skillet, heat the oil at medium heat on the stovetop. Toss in the turnip, parsnip, carrot and potato and lightly sear on all sides by flipping regularly and pressing with a spatula for about a minute. Add the rest of the ingredients and mix well. Put in the oven and bake for 30 – 45 minutes, or until all is golden brown. Can be served by itself, as a side dish, on a sandwich or over a bed of lettuce as a salad. Best topped with some fresh chopped parsley. Enjoy!

This Week at the Covington Farmer's Market

Christopher Talley will be playing music in the gazebo, Keith & Nealy Frenz of Lola Restaurant will have their food truck "Lola Deux" serving a food demo and items from their menu.
