STAA Presents Fall For Art 2020 Opening: "A Partial View"

Fall For Art 2020 opened "A Partial View" at the St. Tammany Art Association on October 10, 2020. This installation will show until November 28, featuring drawings by Mary Jane Parker.

This exhibition, "A Partial View", is based on Mary Jane Parker's interest in hysteria, a disease that many women were diagnosed with in the early 1900's. The St. Tammany Art Association is located at 320 N. Columbia Street in Covington. Call 985-892-8650. www.sttammany.art

Wildlife Lookout: the Northern Cardinal

The northern cardinal is a favorite among many bird watchers, and it's easy to see why. Their bright red plumage is quick to spot in the yard and quite common, especially around feeders. During the winter northern cardinals will surrender their territories and flock together for survival, sharing food and protecting each other against predators. This is sometimes called a Vatican of cardinals.
